Contents

Foreword xi
Rodelle Weintraub

Acknowledgments xv

Introduction 1

PART I. THE WOMEN IN SHAW’S PLAYS

1. Shaw’s Athletic-Minded Women 19
   Tracy J. R. Collins

2. Shaw and Cruelty 37
   Lawrence Switzky

3. Shutting Out Mother: Vivie Warren as the New Woman 56
   Ann Wilson

4. The Politics of Shaw’s Irish Women in John Bull’s Other Island 73
   Brad Kent

PART II. SHAW’S RELATIONSHIPS WITH WOMEN

5. Bernard Shaw and the Archbishop’s Daughter 95
   Leonard W. Conolly
6. Writing Women: Shaw and Feminism behind the Scenes  112
   D. A. Hadfield

7. Feminist Politics and the Two Irish “Georges”: Egerton versus Shaw  133
   Margaret D. Stetz

8. The Passionate Anarchist and Her Idea Man  144
   Virginia Costello

PART III. SHAVIAN FEMINISM IN THE LARGER WORLD

9. Mrs Warren's Profession and the Development of Transnational Chinese Feminism  171
   Kay Li

10. Shaw's Women in the World  177
   John M. McInerney

11. The Energy behind the Anomaly: In Conversation with Jackie Maxwell  199
    Interview and editing by D. A. Hadfield

Bibliography  211
   Michel Pharand

Contributors  225

Index  227